Appleton Tower

Appleton Tower, the main facility building for many Informatics modules, has surely become synonymous to a "secondary home" during university education for the many of us in CompSoc who take computer-science-related courses.

We've sought to recreate this building in tabletop size using LEGO® bricks! With over 100 parts and custom printed parts, this is a set that's both fun to build and admire afterwards; but as it is LEGO, you are also encouraged to take it apart as many times as you want and build variations!

The base plate is now complete!
This is 8x8 and can be oriented whichever way you like so that you have the Appleton Tower plate on the side that you want (see images below).
This instruction booklet assumes that you want the plate on the main entrance side (left image).
